

Malbert Smith III, Ph.D., CEO, President & Co-founder

Short bio:

Recognized worldwide as one of the major thought leaders in educational innovation and reform, Malbert serves as an advisor to a number of educational publishers, is on the board of several educational non-profits and is a keynote speaker for numerous educational conferences.

Long bio:

Along with A. Jackson Stenner, Malbert co-founded MetaMetrics. Malbert has worked on a number of prestigious research projects with the National Center for Education Statistics, the Gates Foundation and others to study a myriad of issues such as summer reading loss, the effectiveness of the NAEP assessments and English language learning. Malbert has taught graduate seminars at Duke University and the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, from which he received the Distinguished Alumni Award. He has also been named a research professor at UNC's School of Education, focusing on psychological and human development studies. To learn more about Malbert, click here.